

Form CRS (Customer Relationship Summary)

December 30th, 2022

J.W. Cole Advisors, Inc. ("Firm") is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research different firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker- dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

WHAT INVESTMENT SERVICES AND ADVICE CAN YOU PROVIDE ME?

As discussed further below, our investment advisory services to retail investors include managed accounts, wrap accounts, third-party money managers, and financial planning services. Some of these services are offered on a discretionary basis wherein your financial professional decides what investments to make, and then acts on the decision without asking you in advance. Other services are offered on a nondiscretionary basis wherein your financial professional consults you prior to making an investment. Accounts are charged a fee, based on a negotiated rate with your financial professional. We and your financial professional provide ongoing monitoring for an account enrolled in an Investment Advisory Program as described in the ADV Brochure.

Typically, advisory accounts are charged a fee based on the amount of assets under managements so the more assets your financial professional manages, the larger the total fee. Most accounts have a minimum of $10,000, but we may recommend some investments which require a larger minimum investment.

For more detailed information on the products and services we offer, including limitations, click here¹.

ASK YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL

- Given my financial situation, should I choose brokerage service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications and what do these qualifications mean?

WHAT FEES WILL I PAY?

When you open an advisory account, you will pay an on-going asset-based fee for our services, which is based on the value of the assets we manage. The asset-based fee is billed quarterly and based on the value of your assets and is not tied to any specific transactions within your account. The fee also does not generally vary based on the type of investments within your account, but the fee does reduce the value of your accounts. In addition to these fees, you may also pay transaction fees and/or additional fees including ticket charges, platform fees, and annual account fees (however, see the wrap-fee advisory account description below). Many times, there will be a money market or bank deposit programs available to you. The sponsor of these programs and some mutual fund companies sometimes share a portion of their management fee with the broker-dealer of record who executes your transactions. Our default broker-dealer of record is J.W. Cole Financial, Inc. ("JWCF"), an affiliate of the Firm, and their clearing Firm, National Financial, LLC ("NFS"). We frequently use other clearing firms like Institutional Wealth Services, TD Ameritrade, and Charles Schwab as custodians. When using NFS, ticket charges and commissions on transactions are also split between J.W. Cole Financial, Inc. and the platform sponsor. The Firm and JWCF are owned by the same entity.

For wrap-fee advisory accounts, the asset-based fee also covers most transactional costs and some additional costs. As a result, the fee may be higher than a typical asset-based fee in a non-wrap account wherein you are charged a transaction fee. There are some transactions that may take place outside of the wrap program and include additional costs. Some investments, such as mutual funds may also impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time. The more assets we manage, the more you will pay us. We therefore have an incentive to increase the assets we manage in order to increase our fees.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For more detailed information regarding fees and cost of your account, click here¹.

ASK YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

WHAT ARE YOUR LEGAL OBLIGATIONS TO ME WHEN ACTING AS MY INVESTMENT ADVISER? HOW ELSE DOES YOUR FIRM MAKE MONEY AND WHAT CONFLICTS OF INTEREST DO YOU HAVE?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

In an advisory account, when our interests conflict with your interests, we must tell you about them in a way that you can understand so that you can decide whether or not to proceed with opening an account. Conflicts may result in you paying more for your investments, or bringing additional assets into your advisory account, than you would if the conflict did not exist.

In an advisory account, we are paid a fee based on the total assets in your advisory account. We have an incentive to encourage you to maximize the total assets held with us by either having you add additional cash or other investments to your advisory account. In certain advisory accounts (such as a wrap account or where your financial professional pays your transaction charges), we may have an incentive not to recommend transactions to you since the costs of these transaction reduces the profitability of the account to the Firm and your financial professional.

We share revenue and receive payments from certain sponsors and platforms so we could have an incentive to recommend certain investments, because some of these investments will pay us more. Although these conflicts exist, we will always act in your best interest when we make a recommendation to you.

For more detailed information regarding our conflicts of interest and a description of the ways we make money, click here¹.

ASK YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

HOW DO YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONALS MAKE MONEY?

For advisory accounts your financial professional is paid a percentage of the total assets under management. This amount can change based on the total assets under management, the time and complexity required, and the product mix. Your financial professional may also receive a flat fee for other services, such as creating a financial plan. In addition, our financial professionals may also receive certain hiring/onboarding incentives and/or additional non-cash compensation such as travel to events or reimbursement for certain expenses.

DO YOU OR YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONALS HAVE LEGAL OR DISCIPLINARY HISTORY?

Yes, you can visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research more information about our Firm and your financial professional. You may also find additional disclosures regarding your financial professional on Form ADV 2B.

ASK YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

You can find additional information regarding our advisory services by visiting our website, www.jwcoleadvisors.com. If you need any other up-to-date information or would like a copy of our relationship summary sent to you, call us at (866) 592-6531.

ASK YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONAL

Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a brokerdealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?

